Labor, Conservatives, And Liberals Will Have Candidates In East Calgary

—o—

Wm. Irvine, Labor-Farmer Candidate; A. L. Smith, Conservative; Hon. Duncan Marshall, Liberal; Hugh Miller, Independent

—o—

The East Calgary Constituency is assured of a good-going political fight in the forthcoming Federal election, the date for which is December 6th. Four candidates are now placed in the running, three of them definitely endorsed by their respective political associations, and the fourth claiming to have influential support.

The electors are assured of a flow of fluent oratory for the next six weeks, for the three candidates nominated by the existing political associations are pastmasters in the art of handling the English language, and Mr. Miller, the Irricana nominee, is able to handle himself well on a political platform.

The Labor-Farmer Nominee

William Irvine, the nominee of the Labor Party, and who was also endorsed by the U.F.A. at their Convention on October 7th, has been in the political field before. He contested the East Calgary seat in the Liberal interest against Major Lee Redman in 1917, being defeated. He has been for some time past in the employ of the Morning Albertan, and has also been editor of the Western Independent. He is a fluent and capable speaker.

The Conservative Nominee

A. L. Smith, K.C., who received the Conservative nomination at a convention held in Calgary last Friday, is a young man who has forged his way rapidly to the front as a member of the Alberta bar. This is his first entrance into the political field, but Premier Meighen will find him a decided asset in his campaign.

The Liberal Choice

is Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture in the Government of Alberta until the defeat of a couple of months ago, which swept him as well as a number of other ministers into the political discard. The Hon. Duncan is too big a man to stay out for any length of time, and he was the unanimous choice of the Liberal Convention held in Calgary on Friday.

Mr. Marshall is a home-bide farmer, with a record of good work behind him in the [illegible] Government, besides which [illegible] one of the best platform [illegible] the Province.

The Independent Candidate

Mr. Hugh Miller, is an old-timer in this part of the Province. He is at present manager and owner of the Irricana Supply Co., besides which he owns and operates a farm in that district. Mr. Miller is well-known locally, and claims to have the promise of aggressive support throughout the rural portion of the constituency. He is running on an independent platform.

The Liberal Convention

The Liberal Convention at which Hon Duncan Marshall was nominated was held in Nolan's Hall, Calgary, on Friday evening.

In a speech accepting the nomination Mr. Marshall came out flatly in favor of the ultimate free trade, and stated that he was prepared to go to Ottawa to blaze the train in that direction, if the party hesitated. "The first business of the Liberal party," he said, "is to cut 50 per cent. off the tariff between Great Britain and Canada. But I am prepared to go still further. I am prepared to cut still more off until by degrees we reach absolute free trade between Canada and the motherland."

There was practically no opposition to the nomination of Mr. Marshall, and when his name was put up by Harold Riley prolonged cheers and applause greeted the announcement. Mr. Riley in making the nomination said, "when Mackenzie King takes his place as the premier of Canada after the election on December 6, he will look with favor on Duncan Marshall. I believe we have with us tonight the next minister of agriculture of the dominion, a man who will find the position as no other in the dominion can." The nomination was seconded by O. L. Culbert.

Mr. Riley's name was proposed, but he immediately withdrew, and with the closing of the nomination, Mr. Marshall became the unanimous choice of the convention.

Object to Any Candidate

W. M. Davidson at the opening of the meeting moved that the Liberal party refrain from placing a candidate in East Calgary and was seconded by F. D. Beveridge. Mr. Davidson stated that the only issue in the election is to defeat the present government. By alliance or by any other means possible. He quoted figures showing that in the last provincial election the vote cast in the provincial ridings which constitute the federal riding of East Calgary 2,861 votes were cast for the Liberal candidates and 5,837 for the Labor-Farmer nominees. In view of this obvious majority against the Liberals he was strongly in favor of the Liberal party keeping out of the field and getting behind the Farmer-Labor candidate if it was to succeed in its one object to defeat the government.

Mr. Marshall's Address

George H. Ross, president of the association and chairman of the meeting, immediately called upon the new nominee and Mr. Marshall, in a short speech, outlined the policies for which he would stand and the course he would pursue were he elected to the dominion parliament.

In expressing his appreciation of the honor which had been conferred upon him, he stated that it was not without considerable persuasion from a number of his friends that he had been induced again to enter public life. The occasion was a unique one according to Mr. Marshall, inasmuch as it was only sixteen years ago that he made his first public speech in the very hall in which he was then speaking.

"We are now entering one of the most important political campaigns that the dominion has ever seen. Never in my lifetime has there been one of such importance," he said. In referring to Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, he stated that the party was fortunate in having a young man as its leader, and a man who, by virtue of his wide experience was amply fitted to fill the position as premier of the dominion.

"For 35 years," said Mr. Marshall, in touching on the tariff, "I have been an advocate of low tariff and for 25 years I have never good or bawed from that policy. The one thing that Canada needs is the lifting of the burden of the tariff off the backs of the people, that the agricultural classes may be given an opportunity to develop the vast resources of this country. In view of the war debt, I am willing to collect taxes at the customs house, but I am not willing to

—o—

Work commenced on the levelling of the new skating rink at the corner of Second Avenue and Third Street. The lots have been granted for the winter by the Town, and the levelling work is also being kindly donated.

The measurement of the rink is 125 by 200 feet, so that there will be ample room for both curling and skating. If the curling enthusiasts decide to go ahead this year.

Steps are being taken to secure figures on the cost of a permanent skating and curling rink, afterwhich a petition will be circulated among the ratepayers asking the council to take a vote on establishing a municipal rink. This of course, will not be available for this year, even if passed, but it is hoped to take the vote at the time of the Municipal Election in December.

A number of the local boys are taking hold of the building and operating of this year's skating rink, and it is fully expected to be ready for use once winter sets in.

There is considerable good hockey material in town this year, and Strathmore is certain of having a team.

Pitchfork Assault Case

—o—

For taking a poke at his neighbor with a pitchfork, C. W. Putnam, a farmer residing near Nightingale, was fined $20 and costs by Justices Lambert and Vickery, at a police court held on Monday. The information was laid by the assaulted man, Chas Holland. Mr. McGuire, Rockyford, appeared for the defence, and Constable Pakenham prosecuted.

The evidence given by the principal witnesses was somewhat contradictory, but as far as could be gathered, Holland, on October 8, went to Putnam's place to complain that some pigs of Putnam's were at large on his place.

Putnam was pitching hay at the time. The parties engaged in some very high and strongly flavored language, and the defence alleged that Holland had advanced in a threatening manner, whereupon Putnam in the heat of the moment took up a pitchfork and struck several blows at Holland with it. Two of these took effect, Holland receiving a nasty wound above the right wrist and stated that he had not been able to do any work with that hand since. Holland alleged that Putnam had threatened to kill him, and Putnam admitted having said that he would, but Holland's head off, but of course that was in the heat of the argument, and naturally he did not mean it. He would not stand a chance against Holland in a fist scrap, as he was a man of sixty years, and his right arm was not strong.

Evidence was given by Mrs. Holland as to her husband returning from Putnam's place with his wrist injured, and also by a hired man of Putnam's who witnessed the incident

Defence pleaded provocation and self-defence, but Constable Pakenham said that the action taken could not be justified, even on these grounds and moreover defendant had followed Holland with the pitchfork and endeavored to strike him while he was going away.

We understand that a civil case will be brought up as a result of this case, for damage and loss sustained by plaintiff.

Lethbridge, Alta.—Forty new silos have been erected by farmers in the surrounding country this year which are all now filled with sunflowers and corn. Sunflowers in yield have averaged more than twelve tons to the acre and the corn crop has been the best ever harvested in Southern Alberta.

M.D. Bow Valley Meets

—o—

A meeting of the Municipal District of Bow Valley was held on Saturday, October 8, Reeve Scene presiding, and all the Council being present.

The business was mainly of a routine nature.

Heavier Bridges Wanted

A resolution was passed requesting an amendment to the Public Highways Act that bridges and culverts be constructed to carry a weight of 50 tons.

Cost of Operating Pounds

It was stated that the operation of the Municipal Pounds would show a deficit of $1,000 for the year.

A protest was made against the number of mistakes appearing in advertising in the Alberta Gazette, which had led the Municipality into considerable expense.

Secretary W. G. Way and Councillor Baker were appointed delegates to the Municipal Districts Convention to be held in Edmonton November 22-25.

Hail Insurance Levies

It was stated that the amount the municipality was called upon to collect for hail damage was $54,679.45 Of this amount approximately $29,000 had bee ndeducted by the Hall Board from hail losses, leaving $25,660 still to be collected.

Authority was given to borrow $25,000 for this purpose until December 31. A number of accounts were paid.

Two Barns Burnt Down

—o—

At 12 noon, Monday, two big barns one belonging to Sid Dorsey and the other belonging to R. W. B. Bell, were totally destroyed by fire.

The Dorsey barn took fire first and the embers carried by a high wind, ignited the Bell barn, which is on the other side of the road allowance. Nothing could be done to save either.

The cause of the fire is unknown, there having been no one around Mr. Dorsey's barn for some days. The theory is advanced that overheated hay may have started the blaze. A considerable quantity of hay and oats were lost.

The barns were each protected by insurance to the extent of 50 per cent. of their cost.

Mr. Bell's farm is tenanted by Mr. Percy Waddy.

—o—

The Northland's bid for fame is not based on oil alone. The grain yield this year is exceptional. Tomatoes and cucumbers have grown in profusion and to excessive proportions. Cabbages four and a half feet in circumference are not uncommon and potatoes twenty inches long and weighing more than two pounds encountered.

Winnipeg, Man.—More than sixty thousand tulip bulbs have been imported into Winnipeg for fall planting in the grounds of public buildings and in parks. All of these bulbs, which were purchased in Holland, are of the Darwin species, and of many varieties.

Memorial Hall

—o—

Work has commenced on the bathing and plastering of the Strathmore War Memorial Hall, and Mr. M. S. Hirtle, the contractor, has every confidence that he will be able to have the hall in use again by Armistice Day.

The furnace also should be installed by that time, so that the hall will be in shape for the winter.

The loan which has been secured from Mr. Gardner, sen., amounts to $2,500, and this will pay off the cost of the floor on the main hall, and costs of lathing, plastering, casing beams, cement floors in basement and sumpholes. This leaves about $1500 of work still to be done in the way of floors for lesser hall rooms, and passageways, doors, window-casings, and general finishing.

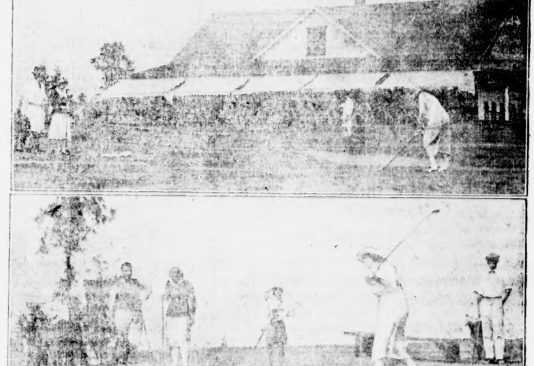

Strathmore Women's Institute have generously agreed to collect funds for the providing of chairs, and already have a considerable sum on hand.

The lighting system and furnaces are being bought on time, and it is hoped to pay these out of the revenues of the hall, but further contributions will be very welcome and very necessary. A considerable number of promises have been given and it is hoped that these will be implemented as soon as possible.

Following is a list of contributions received since last issue:

Robt. Biggar.	$50.00
R. Fox	$25.00

The Pleasant Game of Golf

Upper picture shows the Golf Club house at St. Andrew's by the Sea. Lower picture—On the Golf Links at St. Andrew's by the Sea. There are innumerable picturesque scenes like this.

Golf is now universally recognized as an ideal game for men who lead sedentary lives. It encourages walking, the most health-giving of all exercises; it provides a fascinating recreation, it employs muscles that would otherwise be rarely exercised, and it is played under conditions that conduce to the highest possible enjoyment. The extraordinary hold this old Scottish pastime has taken on this continent is phenomenal, and it has happened within the present century. Only half a century ago it was mostly confined to Scotland, where it had been played for centuries. Then the unexpected happened. From being decried as an amusement for elderly people, it rapidly jumped into a commanding place as its qualities and possibilities became better and more widely known and appreciated. Today links are numbered by the thousand and its devotees find in golf a perennial source of interest and enthusiasm.

Golf is enjoyable anywhere, but there is an added charm to the enjoyment when the game is played at St. Andrew's by the Sea, New Brunswick. The golf links are beautifully situated overlooking the sea, and partly enclosed by woods of tall pine trees. But from any part of the links the sea is always in view. There are two courses, one of 9 holes and one of 18 holes. Both are fit for the play of the greatest exponents of the game, and they are kept in the best possible condition. The links are adjacent to the magnificent Algonquin Hotel. A sufficient recommendation for links and hotel is to say that both are owned and conducted by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The St. Andrew's course was selected this year for the Annual Tournament of the Canadian Senior Golf Association, and including an international match between the United States Seniors and the Canadian Seniors for the Dunn Devonshire Trophy.

In addition to golf there are excellent facilities for bathing, fishing, tennis and motoring at St. Andrew's. There are many beautiful summer homes also here. Several of the most noted people in Canada spend vacations in this spot.

The summer population of St. Andrew's is happily free from the boisterous element so common at seaside resorts near large and populous cities. It is not, however, a purely aristocratic gathering, though society is well represented. Shining lights in all professions are there, though it is not exclusively an intellectual throng. It is a selection of people who have found in St. Andrew's the spot where the highest degree of daily pleasure may be had with the least effort.

A. F. Garland Farmers Man

—o—

Edward Garland, of Rumsey, Selection of Bow River Farmers

—o—

E. J. Garland, of Rumsey, received the nomination for Bow River constituency from the U.F.A. political association's convention for that riding on Thursday. Fourteen names were placed in nomination and the first count gave Mr. Garland 178 votes, W. A. Hyatt, of Balmtree, 90; W. D. Trego, of Gleichen, 85. On the declaration of Mr. Garland's election the nomination was made unanimous.

There were 286 delegates and officials present at the convention. The convention nominated a total of 12.

There was a stiff fight for the honor, there being no less than four names put in for nomination. These were: L. P. Schoeling, Standard; Donald Sinclair, Vulcan; John Glanbeck, Queenstown; Bert Ashe, Goose Pine; Mrs. J. J. Miller, Rumsey; H. W. Lenard, Tudor; P. J. Beck, Morrin; J. Higginbottom, Lone Butte; M. J. Ward, Gleichen; W. A. Hyatt, Balmtree; W. D. Trego, Gleichen; C. W. Robinson, Munson, and Mrs. Mary Fenelon, Stonelaw.

Was No Surprise

Every courtesy was given to each nominee to put his or her views before the delegates, but it was easily seen right from the commencement that Mr. Garland had made a most favorable impression, and it did not come as a surprise when the official result was announced.

In returning thanks, the selected candidate said he appreciated the honor and he sincerely hoped their trust would be well repaid.

W. A. Stevens Car and Clothes Found on Shore of Chestermere Lake

—o—

The fate of Mr. W. A. Stevens, a Calgary grain buyer, who has been missing for the past week, is believed to have been solved by the discovery of his Dodge car, and also his clothes, on the shore of Chestermere Lake.

On that assumption the lake is being dragged for his body.

The discovery of the car was made by Mr. G. H. Patrick, C.P.R. engineer, Strathmore, and on the notification being given Constable Fakenham, Strathmore, assisted by a party of Calgary firemen, commenced dragging operations on the lake. A search of Mr. Stevens' friends have also participated in the dragging operations. Every possible effort is being made to find the body.

Footprints Are Seen

Footprints of Mr. Stevens could be plainly made out on Wednesday morning when the search party reached the scene, all the way from the machine to the edge of the lake. It is believed that Mr. Stevens shot a duck and then in an effort to retrieve the bird waded into the water. The water in the lake is shallow on the edge but gradually becomes deeper. Forty yards out the water is 12 feet deep. The bottom is so soft that one of the firemen got mired in this mud and was gradually sinking. It took two of the other firemen to get him out to the bank. The lake is a mass of weeds.

Thick Mud and Weeds

It is believed that the missing man in wading in after his duck became mired in the mud and tangled up in the weeds which are making it most difficult for the firemen to make much headway in the dragging operations.

Large Increase In The Use Of Silos In The Province

—o—

While economic conditions have prevented a large number of stockmen from building silos this year, it is nevertheless stated on reliable authority that there have increased at least tenfold in Alberta since last year.

In connection with this method of storing feed an interesting experiment is just now being carried out at the Canadian Pacific experimental farm at Strathmore. This has consisted of digging a pit eight feet deep, 36 feet long, and 16 feet wide. The only cost of this was the labor in the excavation. The silage is placed in this hole as usual, and the silage covered over with straw. Prof. Hutton in referring to the matter told The Herald last evening from present appearances this experiment was going to be eminently satisfactory.

It is not the intention that this should take the place of the ordinary silo as there were several disadvantages attaching to it. It would however, have the advantage of making it possible for a man who did not at present want to go to the expense of building a silo of being able to supply excellent feed for his cattle. When opened the silage could be cut like a loaf of bread, to use the term employed by Professor Hutton.

A paragraph appears in the Winnipeg Farmers Telegram stating objections to changing the name of Crowfoot Crossing to Gleichen. The old timers, (must be very old timers) Rip Van Winkles, indeed, for Gleichen has been the common name of our neighbor to the East for a long time past. Here is the paragraph:

EDMONTON—Old timers in the Canadian West regret the recent change of the name of a small town in Alberta from Crowfoot Crossing to Gleichen. The original name was a tribute to one of the great Indian leaders of the west, Crowfoot, chief of the Blackfeet and head of the powerful confederacy of Blackfeet, Bloods, Piegans, Sarcees and other allied tribes. His jurisdiction extended over 10,000 warriors. He was the whites' man's steadfast friend in critical years.

Magrath, Alta.—Several heavy yields of wheat are reported by farmers in the district who have finished threshing. On one farm forty bushels to the acre were obtained on a field of 175 acres, and on another thirty-two bushels to the acre on a field of similar size. Yields of thirty bushels to the acre are fairly common.

Work of the Provincial School of Agriculture

—o—

As the result of an act passed by the Provincial Legislature in 1913, establishing a System of Agricultural Education" the Schools of Agriculture were established in Alberta. By 1919 these schools had proved so popular and had been so well filled by students attending not only from the immediate locality of each, but from all parts of the province, that it was decided to erect three new schools which would be ready for the students by the fall of 1920. The result of this decision was the new School of Agriculture at Gleichen, a second at Raymond, and a third at Youngstown.

The Gleichen School of Agriculture opens for its second year of instruction on October, 27th, 1921, the lectures continuing until March 31st, 1922 with the exception of a ten day holiday over Christmas and New Year's day.

The Schools of Agriculture have been established especially to reach the farm boys and girls, and so train them that they will be better fitted for their life work, that of Agriculture in the case of the boys, and of Home Building and Economics in the case of the girls. It is required of those students entering the schools that they should be over sixteen years of age, whether boys or girls, and that they should be willing and able to profit by the work they undertake while in the school. Beyond this no standard of admittance is required and no entrance examination need be passed. It is the purpose of the schools to reach out to all farmers' sons and daughters and to the farmers themselves, placing at their disposal a course which is entirely free, and to help them to be better farmers and better home builders. Neither is the material aspect of the training the only one sought here. To be a more efficient money-maker and a wealthier farmer is attractive, to be a more economical housewife and home-maker is good; but of greater value than either of these is a training which will produce a man or woman with a broader outlook on life, and a fuller realization of the responsibilities each has, and also a better Canadian citizen in the fullest sense of the word. It is the aim of the Schools of Agriculture to do all these things.

The advantages of our system of Agricultural Education over the systems prevalent in other places may now be briefly discussed. The other provinces of the Dominion, and the United States, with very few exceptions, differ from Alberta in their modes of Agricultural Education, in that they have established one central institution for each Province or State as the case may be. At this central point courses are given, as we give them in Alberta, and work of an investigational nature is carried out. The advantages of our own methods, as compared with these may easily be seen. In the main they are as follows:

1. With our Alberta system the Schools are taken closer to each individual farmer in the province; the farmer has a shorter distance to send his boy or girl to an Agricultural school, and all students have a shorter distance to travel so that the expense in connection with their training is materially reduced.

2. The [illegible] operate as smaller units, each over smaller areas, thus placing [illegible] in a better position to [illegible] intensive study of the problems peculiar to their own respective localities and are able to get into closer and more intimate touch with farmers and farm homes in their district.

3. In the matter of actual experimental work it is evident that in a province such as ours whose area is so great, and where conditions of soil, climate and even of the marketing of farm produce are so varied that with each school operating as an experimental station for its own comparatively restricted locality, problems of crop production and soil tillage may be worked out, and information obtained which is directly applicable [illegible] the immediate locality in which [illegible] school is situated.

Details of Studies: The Course of Agriculture

The course of Agriculture which has been decised especially for farmers & farmers' sons over the age of sixteen, but which is open to any of that age who wish to take the course, includes the following subjects:

Field Husbandry, Irrigation, Animal Husbandry, Veterinary Science, Farm Mechanics, Farm Dairying, Poultry, Horticulture Farm Management and Book-keeping, Chemistry, Physics Botany, Entomology, Bacteriology, Soils, English, Mathematics, Civics.

Some of these subjects are studied only during the second year of the course, e. g. bacteriology, soils and civics, but in general the second year studies differ from those of the first year in that more advanced work is taken up by the student in every case.

The Irrigation course will receive especial emphasis due to the fact the territory from which the Gleichen School of Agriculture draws students is very largely irrigated. The methods of water application, the time of application, the laying out of farm ditches and their location, the relation of irrigation to weeds, to soil drifting, to alkili, to insect control and permanent agriculture will all be dealt with. This phase of the work will appeal especially to prospective students who are engaged in farming in the Brooks, Bassano, Patricia, Duchess, Gleichen, Strathmore, and Vauxhall districts—in fact any who are confronted with problems of irrigation.

Detail of Sudies: the Course in Home Economics

The course of study in Home Economics is as follows:

Cooking and Foods, Sewing and Embroidery, Clothing, Textiles, Laundry, Household Administration, and Sanitation, Home Nursing, Physiology and Anatomy, Dairying, Poultry, Horticulture, Physical Culture, English and Mathematics. Household Chemistry.

Students' Organizations

By no means the least important of the School activities are those which the students themselves are responsible for, apart from actual class-work. By these are meant the student organizations and committees. It is realized that students coming from outlying districts have not always had the opportunity or advantages which may be derived from mixing with others of their own age for the purpose of building up social organizations. Every opportunity is given them to take part in recreation of body and mind by encouraging them to be active parts of Literary, Athletic and Social Societies in the school; to appoint their own officers and executives, and throughout the term to be responsible for athletics, literary and social evenings. By such experience as this it is hoped that they will be better able to help organize and direct the social life of their own communities upon their return to their homes.

Further Information

The above discussion gives but an outline of the work and student undertakes while in attendance at the Gleichen School of Agriculture. Any requests for information regarding any particular point concerning the course will be gladly answered if addressed to the Principal, School of Agriculture, Gleichen, Alberta.

Facts Regarding The Grain Business

—o—

COUNTRY ELEVATORS

Selling Grain for Cash

The farmer selling his grain by the load to the country elevator, receives or should receive a cash ticket. This ticket is very similar to a cheque. It shows the gross and net weight, grade dockage and price. This method is purely and simply a cash transaction. The farmer and the elevator operator have come to terms as to the weight, grade and price, and the cash ticket is issued. There can be no legitimate complaint afterwards. The time to complain is before the grain is unloaded. Country elevators generally appoint a bank as paying agent. If there are no banks in the town, a merchant is sometimes chosen. The ticket should be presented for payment immediately after it has been issued. Do not carry it around in your pocket. It isn't growing any larger because it does not bear interest. And by carry it around before cashing it, you are losing an opportunity for redress in case it isn't honored. The Canada Grain Act states that these cash tickets must be presented for payment within 24 hours after they have been issued.

If it should develop that the cash ticket cannot be redeemed, the shipper may at once, upon surrender of the cash ticket to the elevator operator, demand in exchange therefore a storage ticket bearing the same date and place of issue, and a similar grade and net weight as shown on the cash ticket. If this procedure is carried out ,the farmer is protected against any loss by the bond filed with the Board of Grain Commissioners. In case of any trouble in this connection write immediately to the Secretary, Board of Grain Commissioners, Port William, Ont.

Storing Grain by Grade

Under this method of storage a farmer delivers grain to the country elevator, and agrees with the elevator operator as to the grade and dockage. The shipper then receives for each load delivered a storage ticket which gives the gross and net weight, kind of grain and grade. The grade and dockage agreed upon between the farmer and the elevator operator, are placed on the face of the ticket, and this renders the elevator company responsible, not only for the net weight on the ticket, but also for the grade named thereon. By this method of storage, the elevator company can mix the grain with other grain, but they are responsible to the farmer for the amounts and grade specified. A farmer can at a later date sell the grain to the elevator company. If this is done he will surrender his tickets, pay the elevator charges and receive either a cash ticket as mentioned hereinbefore or a cheque for the full amount. If he cannot come to terms as to price, he can order the grain loaded out, and sell it either on track or on commission. If sold on track he will receive a track purchase note—if sold on commission the elevator operator must consign the grain and make out the bill of lading in accordance with the farmer's instructions.

A farmer should remember that he can get more as a rule for grain that has been inspected officially and weighed. This is called "spot" price, but a farmer should study the prices and see that the discount charged is not too much.

In storing grain under this method a farmer should remember the following two things:

1. Get a ticket for each load delivered, specifying the grade and weight.
2. That he has the right to ship the grain to whatever firm or person he desires.

Montreal, Que.—Commenting on the Emergency Tariff Bill and the prediction before its passing by its sponsors that wheat would sell for 25c a bushel more in the United States than in Canada, the Wall Street Journal says that "never since the tariff law went into effect has wheat in the United States sold higher than in Canada. The daily quotations show there was not a day in July when Canadian wheat sold as low as in the country. It actually averaged 25c a bushel higher in Winnipeg than in Minneapolis."

The smaller businesses will benefit relatively just as much by steady persistent and intelligent advertising.

Competition is keener today for the business available than it has ever been. To hold your business and to increase it you have to get close to the buying public.

Advertising in the Strathmore and Bow Valley Standard will put you next to several thousand readers, in your immediate vicinity. They would rather deal with you than with Calgary or Winnipeg if you can give them a price, quality, and service, and let them know it.

SHAMROCK AND MAPLE LEAF

On Lake Louise, Alberta

—o—

This lake is God's best picture; that is why

He hung it on the mountains and the sky

And set it in so beautiful a frame

Art galleries or heaven have none to same,

And in the clouds the angels oft appear

To be inspired by this evening here.

Springtime in Ireland

A wavy lake of freshest green

Drowns all the sombre of the lone

Pale cowslip fingers on the hills

Give fragrance to each passing breeze

The pearly hummers of the showers

Beat velvet leaves out on the trees.

Her Pretty Hair

Within her hair shade had been

To have a dwelling made,

But, angels brushed it with the sun

And made it sun and shade.

Broken Blossoms

Perhaps the flowers of heaven are little flowers

That here at birth were broken on the ground.

Perhaps the hours of heaven are hours

That here are often sought, but never found.

These are verses taken at random from Irish and Canadian poems, by Michael A. Hayzaden, with introduction by George H. Ham, the veteran Canadian author and historian of the C.P.R. The book which is beautiful ly illustrated is published by the Modern Printing Company, 29 Dorel Street, Montreal.

Round the World For Fifty Cents

—o—

A novel and interesting form of entertainment was staged by the ladies of the Anglican Guild in the Trip Round the World on Monday evening. Starting from the Opera House, the voyagers were taken round in cars first to Scotland, as the home of Mrs. Brewer, next to Ireland, Mrs. Craddock's; then Italy, Mrs. Eves; America, Mrs. Haines; England, Mrs. Hide; Japan, Mrs. Woods, and lastly Canada, at the Opera House, Mrs. Rawlings.

All the homes visited were appropriately decorated, and dishes, also appropriate, were served up.

Following the trip, everybody went back to the Opera House, where cards, dancing, etc., were engaged in till an early hour with the utmost enjoyment. The evening was most successful and enjoyable throughout, and the Guild funds benefitted to the extent of $92.00 after paying expenses.

ARREARS OF TAXES

All those who are in arrears for taxes and who are liable thereby to have their property placed in the tax sale are notified that, according to the provincial act dealing with tax sales, it is not necessary or heretofore that each individual should be notified as to property being put up for sale. The only notice required to be given is that which appears in the tax sale list when advertised. The fact of not being personally notified should not be taken that the property on which there are arrears of taxes will not be put up for sale. It would be well for those so placed to remember this.

Valley of Pure Iron Discovered

—o—

The Edmonton papers of October 21 contained a remarkable story of the discovery of a whole valley of pure iron in Northern Alberta, where millions of tons are ready for shipping without any mining at all.

A whole valley of almost pure iron lying on the shores of Lake Athabasca with deep water rights to the claims has been discovered in the north by Norman C. Butterfield and E. A. Butterfield. Analysis shows that it is 64.56 pure iron; 154 million tons have been measured off, while five million tons in the shape of loose blocks is lying on the surface of the ground close to the lake ready for shipping without any mining operations being necessary. The iron was discovered in the north by Mr. Butterfield and his son, the finding being purely accidental. They had gone to Pond Inlet, on the east end of Lake Athabasca, at the time when this district was the scene of a stampede for furs. Returning their canoe was forced ashore on the rocky rim of the lake by an ice pack, and when they landed the beach was covered with the iron ore, the discovery of which is now given to the public for the first time.

Careful measurements were taken of the claims and maps made. The steel tape was run over the outcropping iron ore, and on computation it would appear that at least there is 154 million tons available, but this figure, it is said, will be exceeded when operation of the claims commence. In addition, a vast quantity of the ore is lying loose on the ground, and all that is required is to remove it to the water front and ship it to the smelter. The Butterfields for the past 16 years have been residents of the Edmonton district, and in addition to the present find, discovered a vast deposit of cooking coal in the Hazlecan country. This latter deposit has been proved by diamond drill to contain 300,000,000 tons of coal suitable suitable for the reduction of iron ore, and the finding of this field resulted in the sale of the mineral rights for a very large figure by the discoverers.

AN UNSOLICITED TESTIMONIAL

Editor, Strathmore Standard:

I have advertised in the Edmonton Journal, the Saskatoon Phoenix, and Star, also the Lloydminster Times, and I must admit that the catchy and straightforward way you have inserted my ad. in your paper, the Strathmore Standard, is the best-set-up, the clearest and most concise piece of advertising I have yet received. Your check rates certainly deserve your hardden of advertising to a negligible extent. I used nearly a week's driving, to advertise my business, using gasoline, wear on tires, etc., the cost I take to count, and here you reach a thousand homes in the course of a day. I certainly wish your paper the best of luck and prosperity, which under such management it's bound to have. Thanking you most heartily I am

Yours truly,

Value of Advertising

—o—

Extract from Address by E. B. Moon at Manitoba Retailers Convention

You have got to tell the people what you have got in your store; you have got to advertise. Advertising is the modern way of selling goods and of making retail stores efficient; it is the modern way of reducing overhead. Advertising, how? Not merely by newspaper, not merely putting out a picture in the paper and your name at the bottom, not merely publicity by putting a picture of a piece of merchandise in the paper and your name at the bottom of it. Advertise by telling the people about the goods you have got in your store, by describing them and telling them all about them, putting in sales talk in your copy, by making them want them; advertise by giving 99 per cent. of your effort to description of merchandise and one per cent to price and display and arrangement.

Just take any country newspaper that you want to look at. There might be an exception perhaps in this whole Dominion, one or two, but take 100 of them and look them over and see the advertising of the merchants and you will see they do not describe their goods. They do not put selling talk in. They do not answer the questions the customers want to know about the merchandise, and you have got to do it if you are going to meet that competition; if you are going to secure them you must get out of your minds the idea that advertising is publicity and get into your minds thoroughly the idea that advertising is salesmanship on paper. You would fire every clerk you have got if the clerk tried to sell goods the way you try to sell them in a newspaper.

Now, here you have another splendid opportunity, and since I have talked about this question of advertising I want to mention it now. The average merchant in the average small town and small city has not used the newspaper as he ought to have used it. He has not advertised enough even of the kind that he has been doing. A lot of them, when they want to advertise an event or a pair of shoes will find how much a line the ad. is, and they decide they are going to use four inches, and they will put the shoes in there, instead of finding what the information is that the customer wants to know about the item and writing it out, writing out the description and then buying the space. They buy the space first and try to make the merchandise fit the space, and the newspapers all over here reflects that idea, and this error is a most serious one. The other side is making the newspapers of your towns and communities partners with you. Use them to the limit and use them with the right kind of selling talk. Get closer to the editor. He is one of the factors in your community. He is a community builder. You need the newspaper and the newspaper needs you. Use him and have him use you.

Now, there is another side to this that I want to leave with you. Not all the advertising you can do is in your newspaper. Some of you are in towns, perhaps small, and haven't got a newspaper, but it does not make any difference how small a town is or how big a town is, just remember that no store can be as efficient as it ought to be whether it is in the big city as big as this or in a town as small as 25. No store no matter how much it uses the newspaper, is complete in its organization unless it has an uptodate and a complete mailing list.

Funeral services for the late Mr. J. G. Bell were held in the Union Church on Wednesday afternoon. The church was completely filled, showing the re... which the deceased was held by his fellow-citizens.

The Service was conducted by Rev. T. Philps and Rev. A. D. Currie, and special music was rendered by the choir.

Following the service interment took place in Strathmore Cemetery, in presence of a large cortege of mourners.

Mr. C. W. Chase conducted the funeral arrangements in a very efficient manner.

Among the many beautiful wreaths were those from: Independent Order of Oddfellows, Loyal Order of Orangemen, A. F. & A. Masons, Mr. and Mrs. J. Whyte, School Children, Bawlf Grain Co., Mr. and Mrs. E. Dobson, Mr. Calvin Bell, Mrs. McLaggan, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. O. Lodmell, Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. J. Van Tighem.

The late Mr. Bell's three children are being taken care of by their uncle, Mr. Calvin Bell, and he is taking them to his home in Manitoba. Much sympathy is felt with the children in the loss of both their parents within the short term of one year, Mrs. Bell having died last December.

Application To Have Land Taken Out Of Town

—o—

A special meeting of Strathmore Town Council was held on Tuesday evening to decide on what action was to be taken on the application of Mr. H. Bailey to have 14 acres of land owned by him taken out of the town limits.

Although the amount of land involved is not large, the Council thought that if they allowed this application to go ahead without opposition it would form a precedent under which others would ask their land to be taken out of the town, and it was therefore decided to oppose the application at the next session of the Public Utilities Commission.

Mr. F. B. Lilly, Secretary-Treasurer of the Town, will go to Edmonton to appear for the Town before the Commission.

let customs duties be collected for the purpose of enriching a favored few."

A Reciprocity Treaty

"One of the first things that I am going to do is to demand a reciprocity treaty with the United States. And I am going to ask the gentleman who was nominated in East Calgary who he was in favor of reciprocity in 1911 and is opposed to it today. He is beyond my political understanding."

An Immigration Policy

In urging steps which would promote immigration to the undeveloped lands of the western provinces, he said, "What we need in western Canada is the immigration of farmers from the United States and England. We need 200,000 more farmers on the thousands of acres of undeveloped land in our western provinces which are now in the hands of land speculators. Think what 200,000 farmers would mean. They would buy one million cows, one million horses, five hundred thousand sets of harness, and the Lord knows how many dippers and pots and pans and rakes and hoes. The manufacturers would be so busy supplying them that they wouldn't have time to send deputations down to Ottawa to petition for more protection."

Officers Elected

In the election of officers which took place immediately after Mr. Marshall's speech, W. E. Cullbeck was elected president of the organization, William Galloway, vice-president, and F. Pegler, secretary-treasurer. The executive committee composed of eight members from the city and seven members from the country is as follows: Harold Riley, Henry Haskins, J. C. Linton, O. E. Culbert, Cyrus S. Munroe, A. Allen, Mrs. Alex Russell, Mrs. F. B. Scott, Fred Haderer, Anson Bosman, Fred Lount, W. H. Schissel, Oscar Moodehouse, Lou Hammer and Roy Cowen.

The following resolution was brought in at the beginning of the meeting by the resolutions committee composed of Harold Riley, Mrs. Alex Russel, F. Pegler, William Grant and W. E. Culbeck: "That the convention or Liberals of the constituency of East Calgary in convention assembled place itself on record as being in entire sympathy with the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, the leader of the Liberal party in Canada, is in complete agreement with the platform adopted at the Dominion convention in 1919 and pledges itself to support and candidate selected by this convention to support the liberal policy in the election to be held on December 6, 1921." This was adopted unanimously, with Mr. Riley and Mr. Culbeck as mover and seconder.

The committee on credentials composed of O. E. Culbert, H. P. Sanders, D. Allen Scott, F. W. Peters and William Galloway reported 250 present in the hall, 150 of whom were accredited delegates with the power to vote. J. J. McDonald acted as secretary for the meeting.

A. L. Smith Conservative Nominee

A. L. Smith, K.C., received the Conservative party's nomination for East Calgary constituency yesterday afternoon. Before nominations were declared open, E. G. Peacod, as chairman announced that the association's committee had decided to recommend the names of Gen. H. H. McDonald and A. L. Smith for consideration by the convention. He intimated that all the nominations must come from the floor and that others could be nominated.

J. S. Mayor was nominated by G. Bagnall; A. L. Smith by H. Turner-Bone; Gen. McDonald by J. H. Threlfall, and S. Bacon Hillocks by S. Reid in the order named. The chairman called on each nominee to address the convention and, speaking first, Mr. Mayor highly eulogized A. L. Smith for five minutes before concluding by declining the nomination in his favor.

Need Young Men

Mr. Smith accepted the nomination stating the belief that never in the history of Canada had there been such necessity for a young man to come forward and fight for his country. He added that the impelling motive to him was to get out and support Arthur Meighen, whom he described as the most courageous statesman of the present time.

"Eloquent Legal Men"

Gen. McDonald quite frankly announced that he would be glad to receive the nomination although it was rather difficult to speak after two such eloquent members of the legal profession. He said he desired to support the government and had a sentimental desire to assist in securing better re-establishment for his comrades of the war.

S. Bacon Hillocks was not in the hall and on the invitation of the chairman, S. Reid and A. Evans went out and telephoned him to ascertain if he desired nomination. They returned with the reply that Mr. Hillocks had announced he would run only as an independent Conservative.

AUTO ETHER

The difficulty of starting a gasoline motor in cold weather is well known to all users of automobiles or other internal combustion engines using either gasoline or kerosene.

This is due to the gasoline being less volatile at a low temperature and therefore less combustible. Ether being a more volatile liquid and its vapor more diffusive when mixed with gasoline increases the combustion of the engine.

One auto ether is free from impurities which would affect the motor parts or cause deposit of carbon.

Ottawa, Ont.—Women all over the Dominion will be particularly interested in the coming general election, in view of the recent amendment to the Dominion Election Act, which gives to women a wider share in the government of Canada than they have had previously. Under the present Act any woman who is a British subject of the full age of 21 has equal rights with men in holding offices, being a candidate for the House of Commons and in voting.
